“Department of Arts Management”

Academy of Performing Arts in Prague, Theatre Faculty

Viktor Kořut

The aim of presentation is to introduce Department of Arts Management and its specifics within the whole organism of Theatre Faculty. On one hand to offer a short view to history of this department (founded in 1991 as individual department, but since 1969 as subarea of directing and organization) and stress its dynamic development, on the other hand to show the structure of study (bachelor, master, English master programme, Erasmus programme).

Students of the Department of Arts Management gain the skills and knowledge needed for careers such as production manager, marketing specialist, arts institution manager or a freelance art project manager, and a lot of graduates confirm this in their positions (head of theaters, cultures centres, etc).

Despite the study is mostly concentrated on practical sides, it is connected (especially in BA programme) to theory, focusing on the theory of managing projects and institutions, communications, economics, law and theatrical technology, always with an emphasis on application in arts operations and business. Since department is part of Theatre Faculty, insisting on knowledge of theatre history, theory and dramaturgical skills are integral part of complex capability of cultural/theatre manager.

Department of Arts Management as modern and active workplace tries to keep contacts with other home or foreign institutions, schools, participates on various research events, organizes symposiums for students and foreign specialists.
